

The role of the Royal Swedish Academy of Agriculture and Forestry is, with the support of science and practical experience, to promote agriculture and forestry and related activities, for the benefit of society. The Academy was founded in 1811 at the initiative of Karl XIV Johan and started its work on 28 January 1813.

Announcement

Announcement of scholarships to Bertebos Conference 2016: Additives and enzymes in food

Date	Sunday 28 August at 18:00 (6 PM) – Tuesday 30 August at 15:15 (3.15 PM)
Venue	Falkenberg Strandbaden Hotel, Falkenberg, Sweden.
More info	Follow the link to KSLA's homepage
Questions	Content: Magnus J Stark, magnus.stark@ksla.se , tel + 46 70 347 41 604 This conference is financed by the Bertebos Foundation and organized by the Royal Swedish Academy of Agriculture and Forestry.

The 2016 Bertebos Conference is dedicated to Professor Jan Delcour and Professor Youling Xiong, who received the Bertebos prize in 2015. This year's theme is in line with their research on additives and enzymes in food.

The Royal Swedish Academy of Agriculture and Forestry hereby announces five scholarships to the Bertebos conference in 2016. The scholarships are aimed at researchers in the field of food additives and enzymes in, but employees of government agencies and private consultants could also apply. The applicant must be a citizen in a former Eastern Europe country.

The scholarship covers conference fees, lodging, and travel to and from the conference in Falkenberg in the south of Sweden. Travel expenses are refunded at a maximum of 500 €.

You pay your travel expenses in advance and then you send an invoice of your expenses to KSLA. The easiest way to get to the conference is by air to Copenhagen or Gothenburg and then by train to Falkenberg.

The application should be written in a Word document and include:

- The applicant's name and organization
- Research field/areas of responsibility
- What benefits the applicant would have from participating
- Short CV (attached)

The application should not exceed one page.

Applications are assessed continuously during the period until the conference is held. Please send the application to Magnus J Stark at KSLA magnus.stark@ksla.se.

Welcome!

Magnus J Stark

Secretary of Agricultural Section, KSLA